COMMISSION PETITIONS CERTIFIED

Hughes Denies Attempt to Soak Government

SOLONS ADVISED U. S. DID NOT GET WORST OF DEAL

Increased Costs Refused By Army Offset "Expenses", Plane Maker Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—Howard Hughes vigorously denied today any deliberate attempt to "soak the government" by including some expenses of his other enterprises on the bill for the 200-ton Kaiser-Hughes flying boat.

The millionaire airman resumed testimony before the senate war investigating committee after the group refused to hear from Hugh Fulton, former committee counsel, on the Hughes-Brewster feud over an alleged proposal to merge Hughes' Trans World Airlines with Pan American Airways.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., chairman of a subcommittee appointed by Sen. Brewster (R) Me., to probe the 40 million dollars worth of Hughes' plane contracts, told Fulton the "side issue" was closed and would not be re-opened.

Brewster, chairman of the full committee, was enroute to his home in Maine.

Ferguson confronted Hughes with some defense plant corporation reports stating that there was "a spirit of soaking the government" prevalent on the 18 million dollar cargo plane project.

THE DPC engineers claimed that some of the expenses of other Hughes enterprises were being lumped into the overhead for the cargo craft which the government was paying.

Hughes answered:

"I don't recall any of that."

"I don't believe the government got the worst of this deal. For any small instances where charges were put in on the cargo boat that shouldn't have been, there were many more instances where my company had to pay for work on the cargo plane that the government wouldn't approve."

"I believe some $150,000 worth of expense went into the plane that I considered legitimate and which the government didn't approve."

The columnist said that Hannegan and Anderson have been conferring at the home of Edwin W. Pauley, millionaire oil man and California state national committeeman.

UNION FACES $100,000 SUIT AS LAW BREAKER

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9—The AFL-International Truck Drivers, Chauffeurs and Helpers union local 100 faced a $100,000 Cincinnati federal court damage suit today for alleged boycotting in violation of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The suit filed by Moskowitz brothers, a scrap metal firm, contends the union local damaged company business during a strike called July 28 to gain bargaining rights by "inducing and encouraging" other firms and persons to cease handling its products.

The company also charged that the union employed "Threats and intimidation" and used unauthorized pickets to reduce the firm's business. Common Pleas Court Judge Alfred Meek last week issued a temporary injunction limiting pickets to two.

BRITISH MOVIES MAY BE CLOSED BY FILM DUTY

LONDON, Aug. 9—British motion picture executive voiced fears today of a general closing of theaters because of the American decision to halt immediate shipments of films to Britain.

The embargo was ordered by the New York motion picture export association at a meeting in New York because of the newly announced 75 per cent customs duty imposed on films entering Britain.

W. R. Fuller, general secretary of the British cinema exhibitors association, said: "We have enough films to carry on for six months, but the British studios are not likely to turn out enough to fill the gap and the public soon would tire of revivals."

SOLONS FEAR PLAN TO SELL MARSHALL PLAN

House Hopes To Nip Any Move To Bring Pressure On Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—Investigators for a house subcommittee on government propaganda were maintaining a close watch today for any attempts of the state department to "sell" the Marshall plan to the people of the United States or congress.

Frank T. Bow, committee counsel, revealed that special instructions concerning possible propaganda by government agencies for the proposed relief plan were issued by Rep. Harness (R) Ind., subcommittee chairman.

He reported that news releases and other publicity materials issued by the state department concerning the Marshall plan will be closely scanned in an effort to spot any efforts to bring pressure on congress to enact legislation which may be required.

Bow said Harness issued the instructions in view of the fact that administration supporters had contended that "a selling job" would be required to gain the acceptance of the relief program by congressmen and U. S. voters.

HE ASSERTED that the merits of the proposal made by Secretary Marshall is not being questioned. Bow said the committee is concerned only with any attempt by a government agency to use federal funds to influence legislation on the relief program which is viewed as a major issue for the next session of congress.

The committee official declared that the state department is within its rights to issue factual information or for individual officials to express their opinions.

He warned, however, that any systematic campaign financed by federal funds to influence legislation on the relief program is prohibited.

PRETTY WIFE OF RACKET BUSTER HELD IN KILLING

HOT SPRING, ARK., Aug. 9—The pretty wife of Arkansas' 35-year-old racket-busting prosecutor, Sidney S. McMath, was awaiting a grand jury investigation today into the fatal shooting of her father-in-law, Hal S. McMath, of Hot Springs.

Young McMath, who was acting as spokesman for his wife, Anne, 25, said she was remaining at their suburban Cedar Mountain, Ark., home under the care of a physician.

The former Marine corps hero asked Circuit Judge Clyde M. Brown yesterday to appoint a special prosecutor to handle his wife's case, after stating she had shot and killed her father, a retired farmer and barber Thursday night.

The statement issued by McMath said that Mrs. McMath shot her father-in-law when the latter, in a drunken frenzy, attempted to attack her in the McMath home Thursday night.

SPLIT SEEN IN LABOR CABINET

Proposed Nationalization In Britain Stirs Discord In Attlee Government

LONDON, Aug. 9—Informed political sources reported today that the British labor cabinet is split sharply over plans for the nationalization of the iron and steel industry.

According to these sources, no matter what decision the labor chiefs make there will be major changes in the government.

MINISTER OF health Aneurin Bevan reportedly is threatening to resign if the laborite platform for nationalization of the basic industry is not carried out. Lined up in favor of postponing the changeover while Britain is struggling against an economic crisis are said to be Foreign Minister Bevan, Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton and Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council.

Informants said that if the cabinet does decide on going ahead with the nationalization plan in the face of warnings that the changeover will mean a drop in production, Sir John Wilmot will quit as minister of supply in favor of Bevan.

The laborite bill for emergency powers to deal by decree with the economic crisis was approved yesterday by the house of commons by a 251 to 148 vote. The bill, assailed by Winston Churchill as "a blank check for a totalitarian government," now goes to committee and the house of lords.

CORN CONTINUES DIZZY CLIMB; REACHES $2.35

CHICAGO, Aug. 9—Corn went on with its dizzy climb today, soaring to a new all-time high of $2.35 per bushel on the Chicago board of trade.

Again the new record price was paid for the September future.

The heavy buying of the last week continued, as hot, dry weather prevailed in the corn belt. Forecasts for continued adverse weather spurred the brisk trading.

The new record price was 3-8 cents above the peak reached yesterday.

Wheat and oats followed the trend set by corn, with oats hitting seasonal tops.

An indication of the heavy buying was the 3-1/2 cent range in the December corn future.

The price ranged from $2.15-1/2 to $2.19 per bushel. The latter was up as much as seven cents from yesterday's close.

BOY CONFESSES LENGTHY SPREE AS ARSONIST

Hamtramck police quoted teen-aged Emil Arvil Gerner as admitting that he set fire to several barns and sheds because it made him feel good "to see the firemen running around and working."

The boy told police that burning of the house, in which Alberta Mitchell lost her life June 27, was a mistake.

"From the rear that house looked like a shed," the youth explained. "I was awful sorry when I found out what happened."

MARSHALL PLAN NEARING CRISIS

Test To Come At Conference On Raising Production Of Coal In Ruhr

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—The Marshall plan for European reconstruction is expected to face its first serious crisis in the next week as British and American experts gather in Washington to discuss the problem of raising coal production in the Ruhr.

The initiation of the coal talks Tuesday was assured when the state department announced the names of delegates and experts who will conduct the conferences.

While strictly confined, on the surface, to the Ruhr coal problem, observers feel that there will be an effort made by the British to include related matters. This feeling has been aided by the fact that the state department has declined to announce the agenda of the talks.

Earlier the British sought to include the level of industry in Germany, readjustment of the costs of maintaining the combined Anglo-American zones, and other matters.

APPREHENSION of the possible outcome of the talks has been voiced repeatedly by the French. The French government has made clear that it is unalterably opposed to raising the German (Continued on Page Two)

HUNGER PANGS END STRIKE AT FOOD IN JAIL

EL PASO, TEX., Aug. 9—El Paso city prisoners were scheduled to return to their chain-gang highway work today after hunger pangs ended the sit-down strike of 22 prisoners who refused to eat or work in protest against the prison diet.

Police Chief L. T. Robq reported that the men ate their evening meals last night and promised to return to the pick and shovel jobs today. A spokesman for the group said the protest was caused by the "quantity and quality" of prison fare and the omission of coffee from the menu.

The police chief added that city officials sampled the food and found it "satisfactory."

DECISION ON VALIDITY UP TO CITY COUNCIL

Election Board Acts To Bring Clarification Of Disputed Issue

Petitions calling for referendum of Circleville voters on the proposal to substitute the commission-manager form of government for the city's present council and mayor were certified Saturday by the Pickaway County Board of Elections to the city council.

The question of the validity of the 24 petitions bearing 378 signatures bobbed up shortly after the petitions were filed Wednesday afternoon with the board.

At the board's request Prosecutor Robbins gave a written opinion declaring the petitions invalid.

Members of the Board of Election are: J. M. Tootle, chairman, John E. Himrod, Orin Dreisbach and George A. Fissell. Claude C. Kraft is the board's clerk.

HIMROD, Tootle, and Kraft, accompanied by representatives of the citizens' group backing the commission-manager plan, conferred late Friday afternoon with members of the staff of the Ohio attorney general at Columbus. They were informed that the attorney general's office would give a legal ruling on the petitions to either the county prosecutor or the secretary of state, on request.

At a lengthy special meeting of the board of elections, held Friday night, board members could not agree as to the validity of the petitions. Prosecutor Robbins attended the session and he insisted that the petitions are invalid.

The elections board members finally agreed to certify the petitions to the city council and to let that body take action.

AS A RESULT of the squabble over the validity of the petitions confusion reigned Saturday in the ranks of friends and foes of the proposal.

Prosecutor Robbins stood fast by his opinion given Friday that the petitions failed to comply with Ohio law. On the other hand, an unofficial opinion obtained Friday afternoon from the attorney general's office favored the petitions. As a result the Board of Elections "caught in the middle."

"I am not going to ask the attorney general for an opinion," Prosecutor Robbins said Saturday. He declared that the citizens of Circleville certainly have a right to vote on the commission government question, but that the procedure leading up to the balloting must be legal.

The prosecutor also cited that if the question were voted on at the Nov. 4 election and the proposal carried, confusion would reign in municipal government circles. Officials would have been elected for service under the present governmental system, a new form of government would have been instituted under which the newly elected officers could not serve. Prosecutor Robbins foresaw legal action which would hamper the administration of city affairs.

In his written legal opinion Prosecutor Robbins told the Board of Elections, in part:

"IT IS therefore my opinion that since the aforesaid petitions were not filed so that a special election for the adoption or non-adoption of the plan could be held 90 days before the regular municipal election, the said petitions are of no force and effect, and should be held for naught by the board of elections. To verify my opinion I might add that it coincides exactly with an opinion of the Attorney General as recorded in 1925. Opinions of the Attorney General, pages 561 and 562. Also, it is my opinion further that the said petitions are defective and should be ignored by the said Board of Elections because of lack of compliance over to Greece six gun-boats for use in coastal patrols. The vessels were built in 1944 and 1945.

HITCH RISES IN REPAIRING OF ALARM SYSTEM

Specifications Require More Work Than Possible Under Cash Limit

Mayor Ben H. Gordon disclosed Friday a "hitch" in plans for the re-installation of Circleville's 25-box fire alarm system. Competitive bids were scheduled to be opened at 12 noon Saturday in the City Hall by the board of control, but there were no bids to be opened. The mayor revealed that in the specifications furnished to prospective bidders it was required that new wiring must be installed throughout the system. Inasmuch as the maximum sum authorized by the city council to be spent on the project the electrical contractors could not install all new wiring and yet make their bid not in excess of that figure.

The board of control is composed of Mayor Gordon, Safety Director Thurman I. Miller and Service Director Clarence Helvering.

The council on May 20 voted to abandon the alarm system and to remove the alarm boxes. This was later done. Following a city-wide campaign waged by a citizens' committee headed by Wilson R. "Pete" Clark, after more than 1,000 persons signed petitions demanding restoration of the alarm boxes, the council on July 15 rescinded its May 20 action and voted to expend not more than $2,500 to "repair and re-install" the alarm system.

At that time City Solicitor George Gerhardt informed the council that the advertising of bids would be necessary because the cost would exceed $500 and that the advertising of bids was required by the state law. At the July 15 council meeting Clark told the members of that body that dependable electrical contractors in Circleville had advised his committee that the alarm system could be repaired, re-installed, and placed in first-class condition at a total cost of $2,316, and that of the total of 12 miles of wiring at least six miles of the wiring was in good condition, and that the cost of repairing the other six miles had been estimated by the electricians at $1,848.

He called an afternoon news conference. Hughes then returned to the witness stand.

The committee expected to use the millionaire airman's subpoenaed personal records as a springboard for further examination of Hughes' 40-million dollars in aircraft contracts.

A small sailboat glides serenely over the smooth surface of the bay at Guilford, Conn. The sun sinks lower in the heavens. The glimmer of the afternoon sky on the water's surface brightens the tranquil scene.

Below the surface of the bay, marine life promises a livelihood to those who will to earn their daily food at fishing. Pleasure awaits the occupants of this and other craft, while profit, too, is not without its seekers.

In the spiritual world, however, is the dominant force of the universe, not atomic energy, but GOD who created the atom and gave man the power to determine the course of his own destiny, whether he set sail for the shores of salvation, or plot the destruction of his fellow man and the good lands that God created.

The waters of the world may float pleasure craft, commercial fleets or navies. The goal that men sets for himself will go far in determining figuratively what kind of craft he will sail in life. Regular attendance at church in all countries is a force for the assurance of world peace and individual and collective well being.

Purity of Heart and Life

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 10, Job 31:1-14; Proverbs 2: 4:14-17; 5:1-6; 22:11; 31:10-12; Matthew 5:27-28; James 1:13-15, the Memory Verse being Psalm 51:10, "Create in me a clean heart, O God; And renew a right spirit within me.")

OUR LESSON starts with Job's vow to purity when he was arguing with his friends concerning his innocence of wrongdoing. "I made a covenant with mine eyes; how then should I look upon a virgin?" Joseph was tempted by a wicked woman and fled from her. David yielded to temptation when he looked upon a beautiful woman, and stained an otherwise blameless life by having her husband murdered so he might marry her.

Solomon, in his Proverbs, counsels his son to listen to his words and to heed them: "My son, if thou wilt receive my words, And lay up my commandments with thee; So as to incline thine ear unto wisdom, And apply thy heart to understanding; Yea, if thou cry after discernment, And lift up thy voice for understanding; If thou seek her as silver, And search for her as for hid treasures: Then shalt thou understand the fear of Jehovah, And find the knowledge of God."

When there were no banks, in ancient times, treasures were often hidden in the earth, and that is the meaning of the words, "search for her (wisdom and understanding) as for hid treasures." It takes a whole lifetime of searching for wisdom and virtue. One starts as soon as one is old enough to know the meaning of right and wrong, and strives, fights and prays that one can, with God's help, keep the feet in the right path.

"For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it."

"But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it."

Avoid Evil Men

"Enter not in the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men. Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away."

How many a boy and girl, man and woman, has been led from a virtuous life by wicked companions. Even a small child can be made to realize that children who are mischievous and disobedient are not good companions.

and will lead him astray. "He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend." It is not an earthly king the verse speaks of, but God and His son, Jesus, our king, who spoke no evil word, nor thought it and did no wicked thing; or possibly the king is the highest order of man—the kingly man.

Solomon writes of the wisdom and knowledge which "shall be pleasant unto thy soul; Discretion shall watch over thee; Understanding shall keep thee: To deliver thee from the way of evil, from the men that speak perverse things." One of the things people who desire to live purely and think purely must contend with is those whom we meet in everyday life, "who speak perverse things"; whose language is profane, whose stories are often obscene, or whose jokes are insinuating. "Discretion shall watch over thee," if thou art wise.

Solomon pays a wonderful tribute to the virtuous woman. "Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil."

"She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life."

On pure thinking, Matthew tells what Jesus said: "Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: But I say unto you, That who-soever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart."

Finally, our last reference is from James: "Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

"But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed."

"Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death."

Evil brings no one happiness or contentment in life. It brings physical illness, often, mental misery, sooner or later death. Let us pray to be given strength to overcome temptation, to live cleanly as children of light. "But the path of the righteous is as the drawing light, That shineth more and more unto the perfect day. The way of the wicked is as darkness: They know not at what they stumble."

EASIER LIFE

"BANKER'S HOURS" as many people call them continue to spread, and what was formerly a six-day working week gets down to five. And what are more lightly occupied men and women going to do with their time? Obviously they will take things easier and have more fun. But the wiser ones will not be satisfied with mere fun. They may want to adopt Solomon's plan. He is the fellow who said to his son: "Get wisdom, and with all thy getting get understanding."

Getting wisdom requires meditation. Running around like a bug is not likely to produce it. It requires observation of the relation of one thing to another and of both to the whole of life. Sometimes such understanding of the universe comes to a man while gardening or quietly making repairs on his house. It may come to a woman while mending or making beds.

It is not likely to come to a worried soul while watching the map and the mileage to make sure the car leaves No. 2 where it turns into 879 and not before nor after. It does not come at the card table. But it does sometimes come to a man while fishing or to a woman just sitting on a rock and enjoying the world around her.

"The world is too much with us. Late and soon. Getting and spending we lay waste our powers."

Why don't we get something out of our leisure of more than passing value? "The world is so full of a number of things"—and some of them are eternal verities.

LINCOLN'S KIBITZER

THE NEWLY opened Lincoln papers show that Horace Greeley, able but opinionated editor of the New York Tribune, wrote Lincoln 44 times, telling him how to run the war. On record is Lincoln's famous reply in August, 1862, patiently telling his wearisome correspondent that his one aim was to save the Union, and that whatever he did or forebore, was for that one purpose. This silenced Greeley, but only for a time.

Not only Presidents but all engaged in serious undertakings have had to struggle with well-meaning helpers. Usually they distract more than they help. Card-players know these pests as kibitzers, and are unanimous in believing that they do no good. Unfortunately Congress has a good many.

You ain't seen nothing yet. Sports jackets and painted ties have been making the male of the species beautiful or at least outwardly gay. Now it appears that men are going in for more and larger jewelry. Which recalls the reply of the man with a huge sunburst in his necktie. Asked if it were a genuine diamond, he said, "If it ain't, I've been cheated out of 50 cents."

Happy Senator Bilbo! By the "compromise" adopted early this year when his expulsion was proposed, he draws his full salary with an allowance for an office staff, and does not have to attend the Senate sessions.

Socialism usually fails because too many people want to be boss.

GRAB BAG

The day is adverse for home, family, property, buying, selling and changes; romance, entertainment and where base of operations is concerned. Your next year calls for extreme caution and tact in all your dealings. Commence no new undertakings; avoid litigation, speculation, extravagance and prodigality. Neither lend, borrow, court or marry. Born today a child will be unfortunate in love, marriage and business. Speculation should always be vigorously avoided, also recourse to law.

Hints on Etiquette
The person who has a little habit of telling off-color stories in mixed groups of people, will find that he gradually is dropped from the invitation lists of his friends.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, August 9 — The general belief prevails that unreal art is Communist. It is in character and in form. But many anti-Communists perform in this unreal field. Chagall, the French abstractionist leader, is a Catholic. Several leading American Catholic magazine editors consider Chagall a great artist and his field as a new, uplifting art venture. The prevalence of a long list of Jewish abstractionists has sponsored another erroneous supposition that the unrealistic art form is Jewish. It is not.

Unrealism in art is older than Communism. Turner's landscapes contained more mist than substance. The Communist Picasso became the best known adventurer in carrying unrealism to the extreme of setting down a few lines and colors and calling it art.

Some unrealism had always existed in art—nebulous backgrounds, indistinguishable objects, bare suggestions. This quality is even older and more widely accepted in everyday living. From antiquity, people saw a man in the moon simply because they could not distinguish the surface valleys there. People have long logically seen cloud formations or certain portions of the earth's surface as suggesting a real form of some other substance (embattlements or sleeping Indians or such).

But is was the Communist Picasso who brought art unrealism to the extreme of imagining an indistinguishable or normally unidentifiable association of a few lines and color to be a real substance. The lines of the moon really resemble a face. But Picasso made lines which did not resemble an object and called this a picture of the object.

This is Communistic in character for two reasons: (a) the Communist revolution calculates destruction of all values in all fields, and the Communist revolution in art has destroyed the value of logical resemblance; (b) the method used is the same as the Communists practice in their unreal politics to destroy logical reasoning based on discernible and provable facts and figures, in favor of a wholly visionary conception. Thus they call political white black and vice versa and imagine it to be so. Thus they disassociate their politics from logical principles (guiding general facts) for attainment of an indistinguishable goal (try to hinder feeding Europe, for instance, to accomplish an undefined, purely negative revolution).

The precise quality of this art can be described although it seldom has been. Carry it logically two steps further than it has gone and you will see its character in its isolated pure essence. Imagine a bare canvas to be "meat balls" because I call it that. Then take away the canvas entirely and imagine nothing—absolutely nothing at all to be—"meat balls". This is the quality and character of that art.

A bare canvas bears some resemblance to a painting, because it is used for that purpose. Perhaps some people will be readily able to envision in the weave of the canvas the form of some meatballs. But if you take the canvas away and imagine nothing at all to be meatballs, you have isolated the quality and character of non-objectivity in its real essence.

"I hope that in the 1948 convention I will have the support of Gov. Warren of California and his state delegation," said one candidate. This is one hope which all candidates for the Republican nomination share.

It seems usually to be a toss-up whether a man in public life gets more kicks or more thanks. Their general feeling is that the kicks have it.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Back home you yell your head off if you hear a faucet dripping!"

DIET AND HEALTH

A Serious Type of Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
THE so-called stomach upset with diarrhea is so common in young children that it does not ordinarily cause an experienced mother much worry. She knows that it can be brought about by over-eating or the eating of indigestible foods and realizes that as soon as the abused digestive system has time to right itself, the child will recover promptly.

Thus, when the diarrhea is severe enough for such a mother to consult the doctor, it is usually a more serious matter and is probably due to an infection of the bowel with germs belonging to one of the other of two large groups. These are the Shigella and the Salmonella groups. According to Drs. James Watt of Bethesda, Maryland, and Margaret Gutelius of New Orleans, Louisiana, such infections cause more than three-fourths of all cases of severe diarrhea in youngsters. Furthermore these conditions are infectious, and this is particularly important when there are other young children in the family, as they must be protected against the disorder.

Determining the Germ
When severe diarrhea occurs, examination of the stools to determine the type of germ causing the condition is important since Shigella germs are susceptible to sulfonamide products while the Salmonella group is not and other measures described below must be used.

Whether or not the sulfonamides can be used, the diarrhea itself must be treated. Efforts should first be made to relieve the dehydration or loss of fluid from the body. This requires giving 75 to 150 cubic centimeters, or approximately 2½ to 5 ounces of fluid for each pound of body weight. This fluid may be administered directly into a vein. If there is not a great deal of vomiting, fluids may be given by mouth.

Lack of Potassium
If the diarrhea does not begin to improve under this treatment, it is possible there may be a lack of potassium, and a solution containing potassium salts may then be employed. This may be given by mouth or by injection, depending upon whether or not vomiting is present.

After the body fluids have been restored, the giving of an injection of amino acids, which are the substances that make up proteins, may be extremely helpful. This is especially true in the poorly-nourished patients. This treatment may be repeated as necessary, particularly if recovery is slow.

Rest, and a fast-acting period of from 12 to 24 hours, and careful attention to the diet are also helpful measures. Only small amounts of food should be given at first and the diet should be low in fat and bulky foods, high in proteins, such as are obtained from skimmed milk.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
S. L. T.: Will you please tell me something about the symptoms and cause of cancer?

Answer: A cancer is an overgrowth of any tissue of the body which is developing contrary to the rules of normal tissue growth. Cancer tissue is like the tissue of the organ which it affects, except that it grows much more rapidly and spreads into the surrounding tissues. Early recognition and complete removal of the growth by surgery or the destruction of the growth by X-ray, or radium, offer the best hope of cure at the present time.

JUST LIKE A STAIRCASE

SCORES ON a hand played in a duplicate game are sometimes just like a staircase, a series of different figures with definite steps from the top down to the bottom. When that is so, it may come from variations in the bidding or in the play, or from a combination of the two. Not always, by any means, but a good deal of the time the differing scores are on a strict merit basis, with the best results for the best work and the worst for the worst.

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

THE CAR climbed a long hill.

Midge said:
"Henrietta, can you understand the meaning of this second gun business?"

"No. It lets Gerda out. But beyond that it just doesn't seem to add up to anything."
"But, if it was one of Henry's guns—"

"We don't know that it was. It hasn't been found yet, remember."
"No, that's true. It could be someone outside altogether. Do you know who I'd like to think killed John, Henrietta? That woman."

"Veronica Cray?"

"Yes."
Henrietta said nothing. She drove on with her eyes fixed sternly on the road ahead of her.

"Don't you think it's possible?" persisted Midge.

"Possible, yes," said Henrietta slowly.

"Then you don't think—"

"It's no good thinking a thing because you want to think it. It's the perfect solution—letting all of us out!"

"Us? But—"

"We're in it—all of us. Even you, Midge darling—though they'd be hard put to it to find a motive for your shooting John! Of course, I'd like it to be Veronica. Nothing would please me better than to see her giving a lovely performance, as Lucy would put it, in the dock!"

Midge shot a quick look at her.

"Tell me, Henrietta, does it all make you feel vindictive?"

"You mean—Henrietta paused a moment—"because I loved John?"

"Yes."

As she spoke, Midge realized with a slight sense of shock that this was the first time the bald fact had been put into words. It had been accepted by them all, by Lucy and Henry, by Midge, by Edward even, that Henrietta loved John Christow, but nobody had ever so much as hinted at the fact in words before.

There was a pause while Henrietta seemed to be thinking. Then she said in a thoughtful voice:

"I can't explain to you what I feel. Perhaps I don't know myself."

They were driving now over Albert Bridge.

Henrietta said:
"You'd better come to the studio, Midge. We'll have tea and I'll drive you to your digs afterward."

Here in London the short afternoon light was already fading. They drew up at the studio door and Henrietta put her key into the lock. She went in and switched on the light.

"It's chilly," she said. "We'd better light the gas fire. Oh, bother—I meant to get some matches on the way."

"Won't a lighter do?"

"Mine's no good and anyway it's difficult to light a gas fire with one. Make yourself at home. There's an old blind man stands on the corner. I usually get my matches off him. I shan't be a minute or two."

Left alone in the studio, Midge wandered around, looking at Henrietta's work. It gave her an eerie feeling to be sharing the empty studio with these creations of wood and bronze.

There was a bronze head with high cheekbones and a tin hat, possibly a Red Army soldier, and there was an airy structure of twisted, ribbon-like aluminum which intrigued her a good deal. There was a vast static frog in pinkish granite, and at the end of the studio she came to an almost life-sized wooden figure.

She was staring at it when Henrietta's key turned in the lock and Henrietta herself came in slightly breathless.

Midge turned.
"What's this, Henrietta? It's rather frightening."

"That? That's The Worshipper. It's going to the International Group."

Midge repeated, staring at it: "It's frightening..."

Kneeling to light the gas fire, Henrietta said over her shoulder: "It's interesting your saying that. Why do you find it frightening?"

"I think—because it hasn't any face..."

"How right you are, Midge..."

"It's very good, Henrietta."

Henrietta said lightly: "It's a nice bit of pear wood..."

She rose from her knees. She tossed her big satchel bag and her furs on to the divan, and threw down a couple of boxes of matches on the table.

Midge was struck by the expression on her face—it had a sudden quite inexplicable exultation.

"Now for tea," said Henrietta, and in her voice was the same warm jubilation that Midge had already glimpsed in her face.

It struck an almost jarring note—but Midge forgot it in a train of thought aroused by the sight of the two boxes of matches.

"You remember those matches Veronica Cray took away with her?"

"When Lucy insisted on foisting a whole half dozen on her? Yes."

"Did anyone ever find out whether she had matches in her cottage all the time?"

"I expect the police did. They're very thorough."

A faintly triumphant smile was curving Henrietta's lips. Midge felt puzzled and almost repelled.

She thought, Can Henrietta really have cared for John? Can she? Surely not.

And a faint desolate chill struck through her as she reflected: Edward will not have to wait very long...

Ungenerous of her not to let that thought bring warmth. She wanted Edward to be happy, didn't she? It wasn't as though she could have Edward herself. To Edward she would be always "little Midge." Never more than that. Never a woman to be loved.

Edward, unfortunately, was the faithful kind. Well, the faithful kind usually got what they wanted in the end.

Edward and Henrietta at Ainswick... that was the proper ending to the story. Edward and Henrietta living happy ever afterward.

She could see it all very clearly...

"Cheer up, Midge," said Henrietta. "You mustn't let murder get you down. Shall we go out later and have a spot of dinner together?"

But Midge said quickly that she must get back to her rooms. She had things to do—letters to write. In fact, she'd better go as soon as she'd finished her cup of tea.

"All right. I'll drive you there."

"I could get a taxi."

"Nonsense. Let's use the car as it's here."

They went out into damp evening air. As they drove past the end of the Mews, Henrietta pointed out a car drawn in to the side.

"A Ventnor 10. Our shadow. You'll see. He'll follow us."

"How beastly it all is!"

"Do you think so? I don't really mind."

Henrietta dropped Midge at her rooms and came back to the Mews and put her car away in the garage.

Then she let herself into the studio once more.

For some minutes she stood abstractedly drumming with her fingers on the mantelpiece. Then she sighed and murmured to herself:

"Well—to work... Better not waste time."

She threw off her tweeds and got into her overall.

An hour and a half later she drew back and studied what she had done. There were dabs of clay on her cheek and her hair was disheveled, but she nodded approval at the model on the stand.

It was the rough similitude of a horse. The clay had been slapped on in great irregular lumps. It was the kind of horse that would have given the colonel of a cavalry regiment apoplexy, so unlike was it to any flesh and blood horse that had ever been foaled.

Nevertheless, it was a horse—a horse conceived in the abstract.

Henrietta wondered what Inspector Grange would think of it if he ever saw it, and her mouth widened a little in amusement as she pictured his face.

Edward Angkatell stood hesitantly in the swirl of foot traffic in Shaftesbury Avenue. He was nervous himself to enter the establishment which bore the gold-lettered sign "Madame Alfrege."

Some obscure instinct had prevented him from merely ringing up and asking Midge to come out and lunch. That fragment of telephone conversation at The Hollow had disturbed him—more, had shocked him. There had been in Midge's voice a submission, a subservience that had outraged all his feelings.

For Midge, the free, the cheerful, the outspoken, to have to adopt that attitude. To have to submit, as she clearly was submitting, to rudeness and insolence on the other end of the wire. It was wrong—the whole thing was wrong! And then, when he had shown his concern, she had met him pointblank with the unpardonable truth that one had to keep one's job, that jobs weren't easy to get, and that the holding down of a job entailed more unpleasantness than the mere performing of a stipulated task.

Up till then Edward had vaguely accepted the fact that a great many young women had "jobs" nowadays. If he had thought about it at all, he had thought that, on the whole, they had jobs because they liked jobs—that it flattered their sense of independence and gave them an interest of their own in life.

The fact that a working day of nine to six, with an hour off for lunch, cut a girl off from most of the pleasures and relaxations of a leisured class had simply not occurred to Edward. That Midge, unless she sacrificed her lunch hour, could not drop into a picture gallery, that she could not go to an afternoon concert, drive out of town on a fine summer's day, lunch in a leisurely way at a distant restaurant, had instead to relegate her excursions into the countryside to Saturday afternoons and Sundays and to snatch her lunch in a crowded Lyons or a snack bar was a new and unwelcome discovery. He was very fond of Midge. Little Midge—that was how he thought of her. Arriving shy and wide-eyed at Ainswick for the holidays, tongue-tied at first, then opening up into enthusiasm and affection.

For Saturday, August 9

WHILE there may be a sense of glamor and elation, with sentiment, romance and idealism uppermost in mind and heart, yet there is danger of happiness and success miscarrying should there be show of excess, waste, extravagance, either in the use of funds or emotions. All strange or irregular impulses or tendencies should be rigidly suppressed, lest there be loss of position, reputation or other treasured assets.

set. The tendency may move to the opposite pole of mournful attitude or inertia, which could lead to loss of prestige and favors, business as well as personal. Estrangements or deception menace.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a complicated or involved situation in which there is a tendency to extravagance, waste, excess either in funds, emotions or other form of indulgence, under the guise of allure, glamor, or sensational emotionalism or other irregularity. A sullen or depressed state of mind and emotions might incite to loss of place, position, prestige and popularity, either in business, the domestic or romantic connection. A firm grasp on integrity and loyalty, resisting all weird leadings for deceit is indicated.

A child born on this day may possess peculiar traits, behaving under glamorous or hidden emotional urges, although it may be gracious, gentle and cultured.

For Sunday, August 10

SUNDAY's horoscope holds the possibility of success and progress through a logical and judicious use of funds, assets, or new deals or agreements, in which there may be need for travel, new understandings with those in important positions. Strive for economy and enhanced growth of funds through expansive and sound use, with consideration for waste and extravagance. Financial, literary or cultural affiliations should prosper.

Birthday Forecast

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year of fair fortune and important contacts, perhaps in fresh lines of endeavor, on new contracts or agreements, in which it would be well to be reasonable and sensible, without risk, plunging or rash hunches. Change, travel and affiliations with affairs of youth and their welfare should flourish. But all with due regard for economy and thrift. Be intelligent in making estimates and valuing resources, and be not carried away by great expectations.

A child born on this day may be given to enthusiasm and extravagance in its hopes and wishes carried to the danger line by its youthful anticipations. Thrift and common sense should be early inculcated.

NEWS Behind the NEWS

Museum directors, art dealers, artists and particularly rich collectors who are easy marks for unrealism in art, are criticizing anticommunism and the state department for refusing to send a show containing a large portion of this peculiar product around the world as American art. They do not realize they are being rather stupid. Public money pays for transportation of American art shows to tell foreign nations of our culture. This art is not American culture. To send it abroad as such is a misrepresentation of our culture. To do so when communism is combating us around the world with unreal politics is dangerous and plays into the culture of Communism. Public officials would be deficient in sense if they thought this art was American culture by any calculations and derelict in their duty if they tried to spend public money to send it abroad as such.

Judge Asks Aid In Juvenile Delinquency War

NEED FOR FIGHT AGAINST CRIME APPEAL CITED

Children Of Today May Be Tomorrow's Criminals, Barrister Says

An appeal for contributions to the fund now being raised in the annual campaign of the National Probation Association to fight juvenile delinquency was sounded Saturday by Judge Sterling M. Lamb of the Pickaway county juvenile court.

"There are approximately one million criminals in the nation today," Judge Lamb asserted, "and tomorrow their places may be taken by the school children of today."

"I heartily recommend to the citizens of Circleville and Pickaway county the National Probation Association as an organization which is working on one of the most constructive projects in this country for the treatment of crime and delinquency."

"THE NATIONAL Probation Association has done considerable work in Ohio. It has made surveys of juvenile courts and detention homes. It has helped in the drafting of legislation. It has given much consultation service to improve probation throughout the state. It is now cooperating with the Ohio State Probation and Parole Association on three projects, namely training institutes for probation officers now in service, collection of important juvenile court statistics, and the development of a greatly needed probation public relations program."

"The organization offers to courts," probation and parole departments," Judge Lamb concluded, "the most constructive thinking anywhere in the correctional field, and it is of great benefit to those of us who are attempting to serve our courts and communities."

To all persons who wish to participate in the program for the prevention of crime and the curbing of juvenile delinquency which the association offers, it was stated, contributions which will be used for vital work in Ohio should be sent to John N. Kerns, probation officer in the Pickaway county juvenile court, Court House, Circleville, and all contributions should be made payable to the National Probation Association.

OHIO IS represented on the board of trustees of the NPA by Judge Paul W. Alexander of the juvenile and domestic relations court at Toledo, and Judge Charles W. Hoffman of the court of domestic relations at Cincinnati. Edward J. Crawley, chief probation officer of the Cleveland municipal court is chairman of the organization's professional council on which three other Ohioans serve. They are Samuel B. Haskell, chief probation officer of the Hamilton county common pleas court at Cincinnati; L. Wallace Hoffman, chief probation officer of the Lucas county juvenile court at Toledo; and Frederick Brever, chief probation officer of the Hamilton county juvenile and domestic relations courts at Cincinnati.

Former Circleville Man As Chaplain Writes For Stars and Stripes

An article by Captain Mark G. Maxey, former Circleville resident and son of a one-time Circleville pastor and now serving as a chaplain in the U. S. Army in Japan, appeared in the July 27 issue of the "Far East Stars and Stripes Weekly Review."

Captain James Dunton, Circleville, an Army public relations man, is stationed at Yokohama Japan, and forwarded a copy of the Far East Stars and Stripes to the Herald.

Captain Maxey's article, in part, follows: "I can do all things in Him that strengtheneth me". Here are 10 words from the Bible that are waiting to give faith, comfort, and courage to millions who know not where to turn in our troubled times.

This verse is a one-sentence autobiography of the Apostle Paul, a man who also lived in troubled times. While he preached the gospel from town to town he was stoned, beaten, five times with whips and three times with rods, ship-wrecked three times, imprisoned often, suffered from cold, nakedness, hunger and thirst, and lived in peril of his life because of traitors and enemies.

Out of these experiences he came to see that he was helpless by himself, but that with Christ he could do all things—even the impossible.

Impossible situations, or so one thinks, face us all. We are baffled, stymied, and discouraged by the problems of life. Questions without answers race through our minds. Shall I stay in the Army or get out? Will I get a promotion? What will the next five years bring to myself and family? Can I make the grade in any chosen work? Is war just around the corner?

What is going to happen to us and to the world? Any one of these questions is enough to test our reason. And yet they need not for "Whosoever putteth his trust in Jehovah shall be safe".

The Massey lad is now a patient in the Children's hospital and his ailment has been diagnosed as poliomyelitis. Dr. Blackburn said this is the first infantile paralysis case reported in Pickaway county in several years. Mr. Henkle announced that funds of the Pickaway county infantile paralysis organization may be used in any manner to aid the afflicted boy.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS ARE FOR PEDESTRIANS TOO!

Wait! The few quick seconds it takes the light to go amber or green may be the difference between life—and death!

Traffic lights aren't just for drivers, they're for pedestrians, too. They are your signals of safety. Drivers and traffic officers expect you to obey them. Yet in 1946, over 2,800 persons were killed at intersections. In addition, more than 4,000 jaywalked into the Hereafter between intersections. From all causes, 12,200 pedestrians—men, women and children—were given a ride to the morgue! They died at the rate of 33 every day.

Fantastic? Sure, but deadly true.

Of pedestrians killed who were old enough to drive, only 10% ever drove a car. That may be one reason why pedestrians have to be told, again and again, that traffic lights and all safety regulations are for them too. They have never experienced the responsibility of driving.

If you are a pedestrian, learn to cross with the lights, never run out from behind parked cars, or cross between intersections. Don't stand in the street or highway. Always be alert.

This advertisement is presented in the public interest by the President's Highway Safety Conference and the daily and weekly newspapers of the nation through their Press and Publisher Associations.

COMMISSION PETITIONS CERTIFIED

Hughes Denies Attempt to Soak Government

DECISION ON VALIDITY UP TO CITY COUNCIL

SOLONS ADVISED U. S. DID NOT GET WORST OF DEAL

Increased Costs Refused By Army Offset "Expenses", Plane Maker Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—Howard Hughes vigorously denied today any deliberate attempt to "soak the government" by including some expenses of his other enterprises on the bill for the 200-ton Kaiser-Hughes flying boat.

The millionaire airman resumed testimony before the senate war investigating committee after the group refused to hear from Hugh Fulton, former committee counsel, on the Hughes-Brewster feud over an alleged proposal to merge Hughes' Trans World Airlines with Pan American Airways.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., chairman of a subcommittee appointed by Sen. Brewster (R) Me., to probe the 40 million dollars worth of Hughes' plane contracts, told Fulton the "side issue" was closed and would not be re-opened.

Brewster, chairman of the full committee, was enroute to his home in Maine.

Ferguson confronted Hughes with some defense plant corporation reports stating that there was "a spirit of soaking the government" prevalent on the 18 million dollar cargo plane project.

THE DPC engineers claimed that some of the expenses of other Hughes enterprises were being lumped into the overhead for the cargo craft which the government was paying.

Hughes answered:

"I don't recall any of that."

"I don't believe the government got the worst of this deal. For any small instances where charges were put in on the cargo boat that shouldn't have been, there were many more instances where my company had to pay for work on the cargo plane that the government wouldn't approve."

"I believe some $150,000 worth of expense went into the plane that I considered legitimate and which the government didn't approve."

HANNEGAN MAY QUIT POST AS PARTY LEADER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9—Walter Winchell, noted columnist and newsman, disclosed today that Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan will resign as chairman of the Democratic national committee "in a few weeks" and probably will be succeeded by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson.

Winchell said that Hannegan, awaiting a report from physicians as to whether he would give up one of his many jobs because of his health, declared:

"I definitely will not quit the cabinet post."

The columnist said that Hannegan and Anderson have been conferring at the home of Edwin W. Pauley, millionaire oil man and California state national committeeman.

GOLD NECKLACE STOLEN FROM VIRGIN STATUE

PARIS, Aug. 9—Police revealed today that a magnificent gold necklace which adorned the statue of the Virgin Mary in Paris' famed Chartres cathedral was stolen during the night.

A golden heart and several medals inlaid with diamonds also were taken.

Police attributed the robbery to an audacious gang which broke into the crypt of the cathedral.

Hurting Around World

Odom Leaves Calcutta For Orient Half Hour Ahead of Flight Record

CALCUTTA, Aug. 9—Capt. Bill Odom arrived at Calcutta's Dum Dum airport today on his solo flight for a round-the-world record and took off again hoping to land at Shanghai or Tokyo.

Odom brought the silver-converted bomber down to earth at Calcutta at 1:05 a. m. EST in a jump from Karachi, India.

He took off again on the sixth leg of the sleepless flight at 2:43 a. m.

The 27-year-old airman completed 9,340 miles of his 19,600-mile route by reaching Calcutta. His total elapsed time was 40 hours and 52 minutes.

ODOM, WHO took off from Chicago Thursday afternoon, is shooting for the solo record set by the late Wiley Post and the mark established by himself and others in the Reynolds bombshell last Spring.

He showed no strain of the grueling race against time at the controls of the twin-engine plane.

He commented jauntily: "It's been routine so far."

Odom added: "I figure I am about a half hour ahead of the record."

THREE CREWMEN DIE IN CRASH OF RADAR PLANE

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (INS)—Three crewmen were dead today and two others recovering after the crash landing of an American airlines experimental radar plane in Bowery bay adjacent to La Guardia field yesterday.

The twin-engine plane, the flagship "Alpha," developed trouble in one engine shortly after its takeoff on a flight to Buffalo, N. Y., to install an engine it was ferrying.

The crippled ship then circled the field in an attempt to make an emergency landing but overshot the runway and plunged into the bay. It sank within ten minutes in 22 feet of water, trapping three of the crew.

Eleven Moslems were killed and four injured when a mob of Hindus attacked a train near Calcutta. The outrage was in reprisal for the killing of a Hindu by Moslems who boarded a train and knifed him in his compartment.

SOLONS FEAR PLAN TO SELL MARSHALL PLAN

House Hopes To Nip Any Move To Bring Pressure On Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—Investigators for a house subcommittee on government propaganda were maintaining a close watch today for any attempts of the state department to "sell" the Marshall plan to the people of the United States or congress.

Frank T. Bow, committee counsel, revealed that special instructions concerning possible propaganda by government agencies for the proposed relief plan were issued by Rep. Harness (R) Ind., subcommittee chairman.

He reported that news releases and other publicity materials issued by the state department concerning the Marshall plan will be closely scanned in an effort to spot any efforts to bring pressure on congress to enact legislation which may be required.

Bow said Harness issued the instructions in view of the fact that administration supporters had contended that "a selling job" would be required to gain the acceptance of the relief program by congressmen and U. S. voters.

HE ASSERTED that the merits of the proposal made by Secretary Marshall is not being questioned. Bow said the committee is concerned only with any attempt by a government agency to use federal funds to influence legislation on the relief program which is viewed as a major issue for the next session of congress.

The committee official declared that the state department is within its rights to issue factual information or for individual officials to express their opinions.

He warned, however, that any systematic campaign financed by federal funds to influence legislation is prohibited. (Continued on Page Two)

PRETTY WIFE OF RACKET BUSTER HELD IN KILLING

HOT SPRING, ARK., Aug. 9—The pretty wife of Arkansas' 35-year-old racket-busting prosecutor, Sidney S. McMath, was awaiting a grand jury investigation today into the fatal shooting of her father-in-law, Hal S. McMath, of Hot Springs.

Young McMath, who was acting as spokesman for his wife, Anne, 25, said she was remaining at their suburban Cedar Mountain, Ark., home under the care of a physician.

The former Marine corps hero asked Circuit Judge Clyde M. Brown yesterday to appoint a special prosecutor to handle his wife's case, after stating she had shot and killed his father, a retired farmer and barber Thursday night.

The statement issued by McMath said that Mrs. McMath shot her father-in-law when the latter, in a drunken frenzy, attempted to attack her in the McMath home Thursday night.

SPLIT SEEN IN LABOR CABINET

Proposed Nationalization In Britain Stirs Discord In Attlee Government

LONDON, Aug. 9—Informed political sources reported today that the British labor cabinet is split sharply over plans for the nationalization of the iron and steel industry.

According to these sources, no matter what decision the labor chiefs make there will be major changes in the government.

MINISTER OF health Aneurin Bevan reportedly is threatening to resign if the laborite platform for nationalization of the basic industry is not carried out.

Lined up in favor of postponing the changeover while Britain is struggling against an economic crisis are said to be Foreign Minister Bevin, Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton and Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council.

Informants said that if the cabinet does decide on going ahead with the nationalization plan in the face of warnings that the changeover will mean a drop in production, Sir John Wilmot will quit as minister of supply in favor of Bevan.

The laborite bill for emergency powers to deal by decree with the economic crisis was approved yesterday by the house of commons by a 251 to 148 vote.

The bill, assailed by Winston Churchill as "a blank check for a totalitarian government," now goes to committee and the house of lords.

PENNSY WRECK FATAL TO TWO AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 9—Two Pennsylvania railroad crewmen were killed early today when a loose string of cars crashed into the caboose of their train in Columbus.

Harry Edward Clark, 35, of Columbus, was killed when he was pinned beneath tangled debris at the wreck scene.

The second man, William Archer, 23, of Columbus died three hours later in a hospital.

Columbus police said the engineless string of cars broke loose and crashed into the caboose of a freight train as it stood on a siding. The caboose was cut in two by the impact.

CORN CONTINUES DIZZY CLIMB; REACHES $2.35

CHICAGO, Aug. 9—Corn went on with its dizzy climb today, soaring to a new all-time high of $2.35 per bushel on the Chicago board of trade.

Again the new record price was paid for the September future.

The heavy buying of the last week continued, as hot, dry weather prevailed in the corn belt. Forecasts for continued adverse weather spurred the brisk trading.

The new record price was 3-4 cents above the peak reached yesterday.

Wheat and oats followed the trend set by corn, with oats hitting seasonal tops.

An indication of the heavy buying was the 3-1/2 cent range in the December corn future. The price ranged from $2.15-1/2 to $2.19 per bushel. The latter was up as much as seven cents from yesterday's close.

BOY CONFESSES LENGTHY SPREE AS ARSONIST

HAMTRAMCK, MICH., Aug. 9—A 17-year-old Hamtramck youth was held today in connection with a three-year arson spree which caused the death of an eight-year-old girl.

Hamtramck police quoted teen-aged Emil Arvil Gerner as admitting that he set fire to several barns and sheds because it made him feel good "to see the firemen running around and working."

The boy told police that burning of the house, in which Alberta Mitchell lost her life June 27, was a mistake.

"From the rear that house looked like a shed," the youth explained. "I was awful sorry when I found out what happened."

UNION ADVISES BORROWING FOR STRIKE FUND

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—New York warehouse workers, confronted with an assessment of a week's salary to provide a $500,000 strike fund, were "advised" by union leaders today to borrow money, if necessary, to keep in good standing.

The union is local 65, wholesale and warehouse workers, with 12,000 members.

Union leaders claimed today that, when balloting on the assessment closed last night, the vote was more than 2 to 1 in favor.

The strike fund is sought in anticipation of disputes arising from the Taft-Hartley labor law.

MARSHALL PLAN NEARING CRISIS

Test To Come At Conference On Raising Production Of Coal In Ruhr

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—The Marshall plan for European reconstruction is expected to face its first serious crisis in the next week as British and American experts gather in Washington to discuss the problem of raising coal production in the Ruhr.

The initiation of the coal talks Tuesday was assured when the state department announced the names of delegates and experts who will conduct the conferences.

While strictly confined, on the surface, to the Ruhr coal problem, observers feel that there will be an effort made by the British to include related matters. This feeling has been aided by the fact that the state department has declined to announce the agenda of the talks.

Earlier the British sought to include the level of industry in Germany, readjustment of the costs of maintaining the combined Anglo-American zones, and other matters.

APPREHENSION of the possible outcome of the talks has been voiced repeatedly by the French. The French government has made clear that it is unalterably opposed to raising the German (Continued on Page Two)

HUNGER PANGS END STRIKE AT FOOD IN JAIL

EL PASO, TEX., Aug. 9—El Paso city prisoners were scheduled to return to their chain-gang highway work today after hunger pangs ended the sit-down strike of 22 prisoners who refused to eat or work in protest against the prison diet.

Police Chief L. T. Robq reported that the men ate their evening meals last night and promised to return to the pick and shovel jobs today. A spokesman for the group said the protest was caused by the "quantity and quality" of prison fare and the omission of coffee from the menu.

The police chief added that city officials sampled the food and found it "satisfactory."

BOATS FOR GREECE

LONDON, Aug. 9—Reuters reported today from Athens that the United States navy is handing over to Greece six gun-boats for use in coastal patrols. The vessels were built in 1944 and 1945.

Election Board Acts To Bring Clarification Of Disputed Issue

Petitions calling for referendum of Circleville voters on the proposal to substitute the commission-manager form of government for the city's present council and mayor were certified Saturday by the Pickaway County Board of Elections to the city council.

The question of the validity of the 24 petitions bearing 378 signatures bobbed up shortly after the petitions were filed Wednesday afternoon with the board.

At the board's request Prosecutor Robbins gave a written opinion declaring the petitions invalid.

Members of the Board of Election are: J. M. Tootle, chairman, John E. Himrod, Orin Dreisbach and George A. Fissell. Claude C. Kraft is the board's clerk.

HIMROD, Tootle, and Kraft, accompanied by representatives of the citizens' group backing the commission-manager plan, conferred late Friday afternoon with members of the staff of the Ohio attorney general at Columbus. They were informed that the attorney general's office would give a legal ruling on the petitions to either the county prosecutor or the secretary of state, on request.

At a lengthy special meeting of the board of elections, held Friday night, board members could not agree as to the validity of the petitions. Prosecutor Robbins attended the session and he insisted that the petitions are invalid.

The elections board members finally agreed to certify the petitions to the city council and to let that body take action.

AS A RESULT of the squabble over the validity of the petitions confusion reigned Saturday in the ranks of friends and foes of the proposal.

Prosecutor Robbins stood fast by his opinion given Friday that the petitions failed to comply with Ohio law. On the other hand, an unofficial opinion obtained Friday afternoon from the attorney general's office favored the petitions. As a result the Board of Elections "caught in the middle."

"I am not going to ask the attorney general for an opinion," Prosecutor Robbins said Saturday. He declared that the citizens of Circleville certainly have a right to vote on the commission government question, but that the procedure leading up to the balloting must be legal.

The prosecutor also cited that if the question were voted on at the Nov. 4 election and the proposal carried, confusion would reign in municipal government circles. Officials would have been elected for service under the present governmental system, a new form of government would have been instituted under which the newly elected officers could not serve. Prosecutor Robbins foresaw legal action which would hamper the administration of city affairs.

In his written legal opinion Prosecutor Robbins told the Board of Elections, in part:

"IT IS therefore my opinion that since the aforesaid petitions were not filed so that a special election for the adoption or non-adoption of the plan could be held 90 days before the regular municipal election, the said petitions are of no force and effect, and should be held for naught by the board of elections. To verify my opinion I might add that it coincides exactly with an opinion of the Attorney General as recorded in 1925, Opinions of the Attorney General, pages 561 and 562. Also, it is my opinion further that the said petitions are defective and should be ignored by the said Board of Elections because of lack of compliance of General Code Section 4227.4, the provisions of which code section make it mandatory (Continued on Page Two)

HITCH RISES IN REPAIRING OF ALARM SYSTEM

Specifications Require More Work Than Possible Under Cash Limit

Mayor Ben H. Gordon disclosed Friday a "hitch" in plans for the re-installation of Circleville's 25-box fire alarm system.

Competitive bids were scheduled to be opened at 12 noon Saturday in the City Hall by the board of control, but there were no bids to be opened.

The mayor revealed that in the specifications furnished to prospective bidders it was required that new wiring must be installed throughout the system.

Inasmuch as the maximum sum authorized by the city council to be spent on the project the electrical contractors could not install all new wiring and yet make their bid not in excess of that figure.

The board of control is composed of Mayor Gordon, Safety Director Thurman I. Miller and Service Director Clarence Helvering.

The council on May 20 voted to abandon the alarm system and to remove the alarm boxes. This was later done.

Following a city-wide campaign waged by a citizens' committee headed by Wilson R. "Pete" Clark, after more than 1,000 persons signed petitions demanding restoration of the alarm boxes, the council on July 15 rescinded its May 20 action and voted to expend not more than $2,500 to "repair and re-install" the alarm system.

At that time City Solicitor George Gerhardt informed the council that the advertising of bids would be necessary because the cost would exceed $500 and that the advertising of bids was required by the state law.

At the July 15 council meeting Clark told the members of that body that dependable electrical contractors in Circleville had advised his committee that the alarm system could be repaired, re-installed, and placed in first-class condition at a total cost of $2,316, and that of the total of 12 miles of wiring at least six miles of the wiring was in good condition, and that the cost of repairing the other six miles had been estimated by the electricians at $1,848.

The certification of the petitions by the board of elections to the city council reads, in part, as follows:

We are making the submission to you in order that you may act under General Code Section 3515-1. Since our board and the Prosecuting Attorney are in disagreement on this question it might be advisable to add that after a lengthy discussion of the matter, our board and the Prosecuting Attorney (our legal adviser) agreed that the proper body to act on these petitions are the members of your City Council. Hence the reason for the certification to your group."

Section 3515-1 of the General Code provides that "council shall within 30 days provide for submitting such question at a special election to be held not less than 60 days nor more than 90 days after the filing of such petitions."

Francis M. Finch's poem, "Nathan Hale," was written in memory of the young Nathan Hale, an officer of the Revolutionary army, who was captured and executed as a spy while gathering information in the British camp. His last words were, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

SOLONS ADVISED U. S. DID NOT GET WORST OF DEAL

(Continued from Page One) to reply under oath to what he called "unfair" statements made by Sen. Brewster (R) Me., who accused the lawyer of saying Brewster would have "cause to regret it" if he persisted in probing Hughes.

Subcommittee Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., angrily denied Fulton's demand that he be allowed to tell his story and the latter stalked from the room, announcing that he would "tell the public." He called an afternoon news conference.

Hughes then returned to the witness stand.

The committee expected to use the millionaire airman's subpoenaed personal records as a springboard for further examination of Hughes' 40-million dollars in aircraft contracts.

FARMER ACCUSED AFTER COLLISION OF AUTOS

Following a collision Friday afternoon at East Mound and South Pickaway streets, in which Mrs. Mary Beavers, Route 4, Circleville, suffered minor bruises, Patrolman George Green arrested Clifton Pontius, 68, farmer, Route 4, Circleville, on a charge of failure to observe a stop sign.

The police report said the sedan driven north on South Pickaway street by Mr. Pontius was in collision with a coupe and trailer operated east on East Mound street by Earl R. Beavers, 41, farmer, Route 4, Circleville. Both vehicles were damaged. Pontius was later released under $3 bond.

SOLONS FEAR PLAN TO SELL MARSHALL PLAN

(Continued from Page One) fluence the public or congress either for or against the Marshall plan will come under the province of "propagandizing."

The Harness subcommittee in the last session charged six agencies of the federal security administration of illegally using government funds to promote public opinion favoring "socialized medicine" as outlined by the Murray-Wagner, Dingell bill.

Bow also listed three other agencies which are under general investigation concerning their publicity activities. They are the agriculture department, the office of government reports and the war department, which is being checked for any evidences that propaganda has been conducted on behalf of universal military training.

TWO FIRE CALLS
Firemen extinguished a blaze in the parked car of Joseph Morgan in front of his home at 343 East High street at 8:05 a. m. Saturday. The fire was attributed to a short circuit and the loss was small.

A 8:05 p. m. Friday fire was summoned to 150 York street where a gasoline can was blazing in the street. No loss resulted. Firemen voiced the opinion children set the can afire.

A small sailboat glides serenely over the smooth surface of the bay at Guilford, Conn. The sun sinks lower in the heavens. The glimmer of the afternoon sky on the water's surface brightens the tranquil scene.

Below the surface of the bay, marine life promises a livelihood to those who will to earn their daily food at fishing. Pleasure awaits the occupants of this and other craft, while profit, too, is not without its seekers.

In the spiritual world, however, is the dominant force of the universe, not atomic energy, but GOD who created the atom and gave man the power to determine the course of his own destiny, whether he set sail for the shores of salvation, or plot the destruction of his fellow man and the good lands that God created.

The waters of the world may float pleasure craft, commercial fleets or navies. The goal that men sets for himself will go far in determining figuratively what kind of craft he will sail in life. Regular attendance at church in all countries is a force for the assurance of world peace and individual and collective well being.

Purity of Heart and Life

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 10, Job 31:1-14; Proverbs 2: 4-14; 5:1-6; 22:11; 31:10-12; Matthew 5:27-28; James 1:13-15, the Memory Verse being Psalm 51:10. "Create in me a clean heart, O God; And renew a right spirit within me.")

OUR LESSON starts with Job's vow to purity when he was arguing with his friends concerning his innocence of wrongdoing. "I made a covenant with mine eyes; how then should I look upon a virgin?" Joseph was tempted by a wicked woman and fled from her. David yielded to temptation when he looked upon a beautiful woman, and stained an otherwise blameless life by having her husband murdered so he might marry her.

Solomon, in his Proverbs, counsels his son to listen to his words and to heed them: "My son, if thou wilt receive my words, And lay up my commandments with thee; So as to incline thine ear unto wisdom, And apply thy heart to understanding; Yea, if thou cry after discernment, And lift up thy voice for understanding; If thou seek her as silver, And search for her as for hid treasures: Then shalt thou understand the fear of Jehovah, And find the knowledge of God."

When there were no banks, in ancient times, treasures were often hidden in the earth, and that is the meaning of the words, "search for her (wisdom and understanding) as for hid treasures." It takes a whole lifetime of searching for wisdom and virtue. One starts as soon as one is old enough to know the meaning of right and wrong, and strives, fights and prays that one can, with God's help, keep the feet in the right path.

"For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it."

"But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it."

Avoid Evil Men

"Enter not in the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men. Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away."

and will lead him astray. "He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend." It is not an earthly king the verse speaks of, but God and His son, Jesus, our king, who spoke no evil word, no, nor thought it and did no wicked thing; or possibly the king is the highest order of man—the kingly man.

Solomon writes of the wisdom and knowledge which "shall be pleasant unto thy soul; Discretion shall watch over thee; Understanding shall keep thee: To deliver thee from the way of evil, from the men that speak perverse things." One of the things people who desire to live purely and think purely must contend with is those whom we meet in everyday life, "who speak perverse things"; whose language is profane, whose stories are often obscene, or their jokes insinuating. "Discretion shall watch over thee," if thou art wise.

Solomon pays a wonderful tribute to the virtuous woman. "Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil."

"She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life." On pure thinking, Matthew tells what Jesus said: "Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:

"But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart."

Finally, our last reference is from James: "Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

"But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death."

Evil brings no one happiness or contentment in life. It brings physical illness, often, mental misery, sooner or later death. Let us pray to be given strength to overcome temptation, to live cleanly as children of light. "But the path of the righteous is as the drawing light, That shineth more and more unto the perfect day. The way of the wicked is as darkness; They know not at what they stumble."

EASIER LIFE

"BANKER'S HOURS" as many people call them continue to spread, and what was formerly a six-day working week gets down to five. And what are more lightly occupied men and women going to do with their time? Obviously they will take things easier and have more fun. But the wiser ones will not be satisfied with mere fun. They may want to adopt Solomon's plan. He is the fellow who said to his son: "Get wisdom, and with all thy getting get understanding."

Getting wisdom requires meditation. Running around like a bug is not likely to produce it. It requires observation of the relation of one thing to another and of both to the whole of life. Sometimes such understanding of the universe comes to a man while gardening or quietly making repairs on his house. It may come to a woman while mending or making beds.

It is not likely to come to a worried soul while watching the map and the mileage to make sure the car leaves No. 2 where it turns into 879 and not before nor after. It does not come at the card table. But it does sometimes come to a man while fishing or to a woman just sitting on a rock and enjoying the world around her.

"The world is too much with us. Late and soon. Getting and spending we lay waste our powers."

Why don't we get something out of our leisure of more than passing value? "The world is so full of a number of things"—and some of them are eternal verities.

LINCOLN'S KIBITZER

THE NEWLY opened Lincoln papers show that Horace Greeley, able but opinionated editor of the New York Tribune, wrote Lincoln 44 times, telling him how to run the war. On record is Lincoln's famous reply in August, 1862, patiently telling his wearisome correspondent that his one aim was to save the Union, and that whatever he did or forebore, was for that one purpose. This silenced Greeley, but only for a time.

Not only Presidents but all engaged in serious undertakings have had to struggle with well-meaning helpers. Usually they distract more than they help. Card-players know these pests as kibitzers, and are unanimous in believing that they do no good. Unfortunately Congress has a good many.

You ain't seen nothing yet. Sports jackets and painted ties have been making the male of the species beautiful or at least outwardly gay. Now it appears that men are going in for more and larger jewelry. Which recalls the reply of the man with a huge sunburst in his necktie. Asked if it were a genuine diamond, he said, "If it ain't, I've been cheated out of 50 cents."

Happy Senator Bilbo! By the "compromise" adopted early this year when his expulsion was proposed, he draws his full salary with an allowance for an office staff, and does not have to attend the Senate sessions.

Socialism usually fails because too many people want to be boss.

GRAB BAG

3. What part in United States history did the ships Eleanor, Beaver and the Dartmouth take?

Words of Wisdom

To whom can riches give repute, or trust, content, or pleasure, but the good and just?—Pope.

Today's Horoscope

If this is your birthday anniversary, you have definite likes and dislikes, but your love is sincere and strong. You are somewhat domineering, opinionated and moody, which makes you seem ungracious under opposition. You are very honest and just, but are unsympathetic to the injustice of others. Art, literature and music are your great interests.

Hints on Etiquette

The person who has a little habit of telling off-color stories in mixed groups of people, will find that he gradually is dropped from the invitation lists of his friends.

Horoscope for Sunday

Today's birthday celebrant is generous, and you must take care that you do not overlook your own interests. You have great executive ability, good judgment, and take a prominent part in everything. You are a good talker and convincing in an argument. Although you have many outside interests, you make your home life happy and pleasant. This day is adverse in its aspects. Care is needed to avoid trouble and loss. Be vigilant in your next year, especially those relating to family, lover and friends, and take extra care of health. Concentrate rather on business, but eschew law. Born today a child will not be very lucky, but intellectual pursuits will minimize adversity and provide some amelioration.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. The treasurer of the United States.
2. William Henry Harrison, who was 68 when he was inaugurated.
3. They were the ships involved in the Boston Tea Party.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, August 9 — The general belief prevails that unreal art is Communist. It is in character and in form. But many anti-Communists perform in this unreal field. Chagall, the French abstractionist leader, is a Catholic. Several leading American Catholic magazine editors consider Chagall a great artist and his field as a new, uplifting art venture. The prevalence of a long list of Jewish abstractionists has sponsored another erroneous supposition that the unrealistic art form is Jewish. It is not.

Unrealism in art is older than Communism. Turner's landscapes contained more mist than substance. The Communist Picasso became the best known adventurer in carrying unrealism to the extreme of setting down a few lines and colors and calling it art.

Some unrealism had always existed in art—nebulous backgrounds, indistinguishable objects, bare suggestions. This quality is even older and more widely accepted in everyday living. From antiquity, people saw a man in the moon simply because they could not distinguish the surface valleys there. People have long logically seen cloud formations or certain portions of the earth's surface as suggesting a real form of some other substance (embattlements or sleeping Indians or such).

But it was the Communist Picasso who brought art unrealism to the extreme of imagining an indistinguishable or normally unidentifiable association of a few lines and color to be a real substance. The lines of the moon really resemble a face. But Picasso made lines which did not resemble an object and called this a picture of the object.

This is Communistic in character for two reasons: (a) the Communist revolution calculates destruction of all values in all fields, and the Communist revolution in art has destroyed the value of logical resemblance; (b) the method used is the same as the Communists practice in their unreal politics to destroy logical reasoning based on discernible and provable facts and figures, in favor of a wholly visionary conception. Thus they call political white black and vice versa and imagine it to be so. Thus they dissociate their politics from logical principles (guiding general facts) for attainment of an indistinguishable goal (try to hinder feeding Europe, for instance, to accomplish an undefined, purely negative revolution).

The precise quality of this art can be described although it seldom has been. Carry it logically two steps further than it has gone and you will see its character in its isolated pure essence. Imagine a bare canvas to be "meat balls" because I call it that. Then take away the canvas entirely and imagine nothing—absolutely nothing at all to be—"meat balls". This is the quality and character of that art.

A bare canvas bears some resemblance to a painting, because it is used for that purpose. Perhaps some people will be readily able to envision in the weave of the canvas the form of some meatballs. But if you take the canvas away and imagine nothing at all to be meatballs, you have isolated the quality and character of non-objectivity in its real essence.

DIET AND HEALTH

A Serious Type of Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
THE so-called stomach upset with diarrhea is so common in young children that it does not ordinarily cause an experienced mother much worry. She knows that it can be brought about by over-eating or the eating of indigestible foods and realizes that as soon as the abused digestive system has time to right itself, the child will recover promptly.

Thus, when the diarrhea is severe enough for such a mother to consult the doctor, it is usually a more serious matter and is probably due to an infection of the bowel with germs belonging to one or the other of two large groups. These are the Shigella and the Salmonella groups. According to Drs. James Watt of Bethesda, Maryland, and Margaret Gutelius of New Orleans, Louisiana, such infections cause more than three-fourths of all cases of severe diarrhea in youngsters. Furthermore, these conditions are infectious, and this is particularly important when there are other young children in the family, as they must be protected against the disorder.

Determining the Germ
When severe diarrhea occurs, examination of the stools to determine the type of germ causing the condition is important since Shigella germs are susceptible to sulfonamide products while the Salmonella group is not and other measures described below must be used.

Whether or not the sulfonamides can be used, the diarrhea itself must be treated. Efforts should first be made to relieve the dehydration or loss of fluid from the body. This requires giving 75 to 150 cubic centimeters, or approximately 2 1/2 to 5 ounces of fluid for each pound of body weight. This fluid may be administered directly into a vein. If there is not a great deal of vomiting, fluids may be given by mouth.

Lack of Potassium
If the diarrhea does not begin to improve under this treatment, it is possible there may be a lack of potassium, and a solution containing potassium salts may then be employed. This may be given by mouth or by injection, depending upon whether or not vomiting is present.

After the body fluids have been restored, the giving of an injection of blood into a vein, and the giving of amino acids, which are the substances that make up proteins, may be extremely helpful. This is especially true in the poorly-nourished patients. This treatment may be repeated as necessary, particularly if recovery is slow.

Rest, and a fasting period of from 12 to 24 hours, and careful attention to the diet are also helpful measures. Only small amounts of food should be given at first and the diet should be low in fat and bulky foods, high in proteins, such as are obtained from skimmed milk.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
S. L. T.: Will you please tell me something about the symptoms and cure of cancer?
Answer: A cancer is an overgrowth of any tissue of the body which is developing contrary to the rules of normal tissue growth. Cancer tissue is like the tissue of the organ which it affects, except that it grows much more rapidly and spreads into the surrounding tissues. Early recognition and complete removal of the growth by surgery or the destruction of the growth by X-ray, or radium, offer the best hope of cure at the present time.

JUST LIKE A STAIRCASE
SCORES on a hand played in a duplicate game are sometimes just like a staircase, a series of different figures with definite steps from the top down to the bottom. When that is so, it may come from variations in the bidding or in the play, or from a combination of the two. Not always, by any means, but a good deal of the time the differing scores are on a strict merit basis, with the best results for the best work and the worst for the worst.

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT
THE CAR climbed a long hill. Midge said:

"Henrietta, can you understand the meaning of this second gun business?"

"No. It lets Gerda out. But beyond that it just doesn't seem to add up to anything."

"But, if it was one of Henry's guns—"

"We don't know that it was. It hasn't been found yet, remember."

"No, that's true. It could be someone outside altogether. Do you know who I'd like to think killed John, Henrietta? That woman."

"Veronica Gray?"

"Yes."

Henrietta said nothing. She drove on with her eyes fixed sternly on the road ahead of her.

"Don't you think it's possible?" persisted Midge.

"Possible, yes," said Henrietta slowly.

"Then you don't think—"

"It's no good thinking a thing because you want to think it. It's the perfect solution—letting all of us out!"

"Us? But—"

"We're in it—all of us. Even you, Midge darling—though they'd be hard put to it to find a motive for your shooting John! Of course, I'd like it to be Veronica. Nothing would please me better than to see her giving a lovely performance, as Lucy would put it, in the dock!"

Midge shot a quick look at her.

"Tell me, Henrietta, does it all make you feel vindictive?"

"You mean—Henrietta paused a moment—"because I loved John?"

"Yes."

As she spoke, Midge realized with a slight sense of shock that this was the first time the bald fact had been put into words. It had been accepted by them all, by Lucy and Henry, by Midge, by Edward even, that Henrietta loved John Christow, but nobody had ever so much as hinted at the fact in words before.

There was a pause while Henrietta seemed to be thinking. Then she said in a thoughtful voice:

"I can't explain to you what I feel. Perhaps I don't know myself."

They were driving now over Albert Bridge.

Henrietta said:

"You'd better come to the studio, Midge. We'll have tea and I'll drive you to your digs afterward."

Here in London the short afternoon light was already fading. They drew up at the studio door and Henrietta put her key into the lock. She went in and switched on the light.

"It's chilly," she said. "We'd better light the gas fire. Oh, bother—I meant to get some matches on the way."

"Won't a lighter do?"

"Mine's no good and anyway it's difficult to light a gas fire with one. Make yourself at home. There's an old blind man stands on the corner. I usually get my matches off him. I shan't be a minute or two."

Left alone in the studio, Midge wandered around, looking at Henrietta's work. It gave her an eerie feeling to be sharing the empty studio with these creations of wood and bronze.

There was a bronze head with high cheekbones and a tin hat, possibly a Red Army soldier, and there was an airy structure of twisted, ribbon-like aluminum which intrigued her a good deal. There was a vast static frog in pinkish granite, and at the end of the studio she came to an almost life-sized wooden figure.

She was staring at it when Henrietta's key turned in the lock and Henrietta herself came in slightly breathless.

Midge turned.

"What's this, Henrietta? It's rather frightening."

"That? That's The Worshippier. It's going to the International Group."

Midge repeated, staring at it:

"It's frightening..."

Kneeling to light the gas fire, Henrietta said over her shoulder:

"It's interesting your saying that. Why do you find it frightening?"

"I think—because it hasn't any face..."

"How right you are, Midge..."

"It's very good, Henrietta."

Henrietta said lightly: "It's a nice bit of pear wood..."

She rose from her knees. She tossed her big satchel bag and her furs on to the divan, and threw down a couple of boxes of matches on the table.

Midge was struck by the expression on her face—it had a sudden quite inexplicable exultation.

"Now for tea," said Henrietta, and in her voice was the same warm jubilation that Midge had already glimpsed in her face.

It struck an almost jarring note—but Midge forgot it in a train of thought aroused by the sight of the two boxes of matches.

"You remember those matches Veronica Gray took away with her?"

"When Lucy insisted on foisting a whole half dozen on her? Yes."

"Did anyone ever find out whether she had matches in her cottage all the time?"

"I expect the police did. They're very thorough."

A faintly triumphant smile was curving Henrietta's lips. Midge felt puzzled and almost repelled.

She thought, Can Henrietta really have cared for John? Can she? Surely not.

And a faint desolate chill struck through her as she reflected:

Edward will not have to wait very long...

Unconscious of her not to let that thought bring warmth. She wanted Edward to be happy, didn't she? It wasn't as though she could have Edward herself. To Edward she would be always "little Midge."

Never more than that. Never a woman to be loved.

Edward, unfortunately, was the faithful kind. Well, the faithful kind usually got what they wanted in the end.

Edward and Henrietta at Ainswick... that was the proper ending to the story. Edward and Henrietta living happy ever afterward.

She could see it all very clearly...

The fact that a working day of nine to six, with an hour off for lunch, cut a girl off from most of the pleasures and relaxations of a leisured class had simply not occurred to Edward. That Midge, unless she sacrificed her lunch hour, could not drop into a picture gallery, that she could not go to an afternoon concert, drive out of town on a fine summer's day, lunch in a leisurely way at a distant restaurant, but had instead to relegate her excursions into the country to Saturday afternoons and Sundays and to snatch her lunch in a crowded Lyons or a snack bar was a new and unwelcome discovery. He was very fond of Midge. Little Midge—that was how he thought of her. Arriving shy and wide-eyed at Ainswick for the holidays, tongue-tied at first, then opening up into enthusiasm and affection.

WHILE there may be a sense of glamor and elation, with sentiment, romance and idealism uppermost in mind and heart, yet there is danger of happiness and success miscarrying should there be show of excess, waste, extravagance, either in the use of funds or emotions. All strange or irregular impulses or tendencies should be rigidly suppressed, lest there be loss of position, reputation or other treasured assets.

NEWS Behind the NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Museum directors, art dealers, artists and particularly rich collectors who are easy marks for unrealism in art, are criticizing anticommunists and the state department for refusing to send a show containing a large portion of this peculiar product around the world as American art. They do not realize they are being rather stupid. Public money pays for transportation of American art shows to tell foreign nations of our culture. This art is not American culture. To send it abroad as such is a misrepresentation of our culture. To do so when communism is combating us around the world with unreal politics is dangerous and plays into the culture of Communism. Public officials would be deficient in sense if they thought this art was American culture by any calculations and derelict in their duty if they tried to spend public money to send it abroad as such.

Judge Asks Aid In Juvenile Delinquency War

NEED FOR FIGHT AGAINST CRIME APPEAL CITED

Children Of Today May Be Tomorrow's Criminals, Barrister Says

An appeal for contributions to the fund now being raised in the annual campaign of the National Probation Association to fight juvenile delinquency was sounded Saturday by Judge Sterling M. Lamb of the Pickaway county juvenile court.

"There are approximately one million criminals in the nation today," Judge Lamb asserted, "and tomorrow their places may be taken by the school children of today."

"I heartily recommend to the citizens of Circleville and Pickaway county the National Probation Association as an organization which is working on one of the most constructive projects in this country for the treatment of crime and delinquency."

"THE NATIONAL Probation Association has done considerable work in Ohio. It has made surveys of juvenile courts and detention homes. It has helped in the drafting of legislation. It has given much consultation service to improve probation throughout the state. It is now cooperating with the Ohio State Probation and Parole Association on three projects, namely training institutes for probation officers now in service, collection of important juvenile court statistics, and the development of a greatly needed probation public relations program."

"The organization offers to courts, probation and parole departments," Judge Lamb concluded, "the most constructive thinking anywhere in the correctional field, and it is of great benefit to those of us who are attempting to serve our courts and communities."

To all persons who wish to participate in the program for the prevention of crime and the curbing of juvenile delinquency which the association offers, it was stated, contributions which will be used for vital work in Ohio should be sent to John N. Kerns, probation officer in the Pickaway county juvenile court, Court House, Circleville, and all contributions should be made payable to the National Probation Association.

OHIO IS represented on the board of trustees of the NPA by Judge Paul W. Alexander of the juvenile and domestic relations court at Toledo, and Judge Charles W. Hoffman of the court of domestic relations at Cincinnati. Edward J. Crawley, chief probation officer of the Cleveland municipal court is chairman of the organization's professional council on which three other Ohioans serve. They are Samuel B. Haskell, chief probation officer of the Hamilton county common pleas court at Cincinnati; L. Wallace Hoffman, chief probation officer of the Lucas county juvenile court at Toledo; and Frederick Breyer, chief probation officer of the Hamilton county juvenile and domestic relations courts at Cincinnati.

Former Circleville Man As Chaplain Writes For Stars and Stripes

An article by Captain Mark G. Maxey, former Circleville resident and son of a one-time Circleville pastor and now serving as a chaplain in the U. S. Army in Japan, appeared in the July 27 issue of the "Far East Stars and Stripes Weekly Review".

Captain James Dunton, Circleville, an Army public relations man, is stationed at Yokohama Japan, and forwarded a copy of the Far East Stars and Stripes to the Herald.

Captain Maxey's article, in part, follows:

"I can do all things in Him that strengtheneth me". Here are 10 words from the Bible that are waiting to give faith, comfort, and courage to millions who know not where to turn in our troubled times.

This verse is a one-sentence autobiography of the Apostle Paul, a man who also lived in troubled times. While he preached the gospel from town to town he was stoned, beaten, five times with whips and three times with rods, shipwrecked three times, imprisoned often, suffered from cold, nakedness, hunger and thirst, and lived in peril of his life because of traitors and enemies.

Out of these experiences he came to see that he was helpless by himself, but that with Christ he could do all things—even the impossible.

Impossible situations, or so one thinks, face us all. We are baffled, stymied, and discouraged by the problems of life. Questions without answers race through our minds. Shall I stay in the Army or get out? Will I get a promotion? What will the next five years bring to myself and family? Can I make the grade in any chosen work? Is war just around the corner? What is going to happen to us and to the world? Any one of these questions is enough to test our reason. And yet they need not for "Whosoever putteth his trust in Jehovah shall be safe".

POLIO FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR STRICKEN CHILD

Notification that funds of the Pickaway County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are ready to pay for treatment of little Edward Massey, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Massey, Route 1, Williamsport, was made to Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, and to the Children's hospital at Columbus, by Don Henkle, chairman of the chapter.

The Massey lad is now a patient in the Children's hospital and his ailment has been diagnosed as poliomyelitis. Dr. Blackburn said this is the first infantile paralysis case reported in Pickaway county in several years. Mr. Henkle announced that funds of the Pickaway county infantile paralysis organization may be used in any manner to aid the afflicted boy.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS ARE FOR PEDESTRIANS TOO!

Wait! The few quick seconds it takes the light to go amber or green may be the difference between life and death!

Traffic lights aren't just for drivers, they're for pedestrians, too. They are your signals of safety. Drivers and traffic officers expect you to obey them. Yet in 1946, over 2,800 persons were killed at intersections. In addition, more than 4,000 jaywalked into the Hereafter between intersections. From all causes, 12,200 pedestrians—men, women and children—were given a ride to the morgue! They died at the rate of 33 every day.

Fantastic? Sure, but deadly true.

Of pedestrians killed who were old enough to drive, only 10% ever drove a car. That may be one reason why pedestrians have to be told, again and again, that traffic lights and all safety regulations are for them too. They have never experienced the responsibility of driving.

If you are a pedestrian, learn to cross with the lights, never run out from behind parked cars, or cross between intersections. Don't stand in the street or highway. Always be alert.
